Dear Ludolph,

I was already feeling conscious stricken enough at not having returned your POWELL material, but when I, for the first time last night opened and read your letter of January 31st, I felt I feel worse at my delay.

Your letter had gotten mixed up with some opened and read mail that I was keeping for reference. And your letter phoned unopened last night.

Please forgive me it is practically impossible to have typing done here, and Jim dislikes it so he refuses to do it for me.

As I wrote you, we have been unusually busy. I have been without a maid much of the time, my maid having been out with a new baby.

Then too, and most of all, it is our new duties Jim and I have accepted.

He is the newly elected president of our Thomas County Historical Society accepting the office with the promise that I helped him, feeling as he does that he does not have the time to give it all the thought it requires. And so we have been busy with plans for the years work. In addition I have agreed to be Regent of our Thomasville chapter of D. A. R. While I do not go in office until March, I have been busy giving thought to committee chairman, officers etc.

I have not even written your cousin, of whom you wrote, and whose letter you sent me. I have been waiting for time to write him in full, and include in my information, suggestions of research we might follow in determining the first WILLIAM.

Hurriedly, and more later.

WILMA

Did not mail material Saturday as I had hoped because of unexpected out-of-town guests.

W.

NOTE:

Wilma Margaret Twitty married James Buttolph Burch, They lived in Thomasville, GA. The Ludolph may have been Ludolph Armstrong Smith.

Deer Ludolph,

first, my apologies for the paper but it I am to take advantage of tonight's opportunity to write, this has to be it.

And with that out of the way please tell me if I were dreaming and thinking you said you have other copies of the wills of GEORGE and KEDAR POWELL. This is what I had in mind but after mailing the other material I became distressed for leave I was mistaken.

Please tell me frankly for it is all in order and I can mail it anytime.

Some 10 days ago I wrote Mr. WILLIAM S. POWELL telling him of my interest in our either proving or disproving the WILLIAM who came over with JOHN SMITH as our ancestor and expressing the hope that he shares that interest.

I enclosed some early Powell names I found in a Virginia index of wills and inventories and their dates many POWELLS in Virginia.

The records of Elizabeth City County, it is stated, were lost, which is unfortunate. I understand it was Elizabeth City County in which lived our JOHN POWELL, JOHN who was member of House of Burgess prior to 1702

One record states that JOHN POWELL and wife CATHERINE [POWELL] owned property in Elizabeth City County. In following the English ancestry of Sir CHARLES and Sir ROBERT NEEDHAM there is the following from which I quote excerpts enough for you to get the significance, if any. W. B.

Magna Carta by John S. Wurts, Part VII

"Lady ALICE NEEDHAM ... known to have been born in 1656 married in 1689 WILLIAM BRYAN styled Marquis of Thomond... They came in 1689 to the Isle of Wight County Virginia, eventually settling in 1722 on a farm in Alamance sound, Pasquotank County North Carolina, where he is buried. He was High Sheriff and Justice of the Peace for Bertie County and member of the Assembly for Pasquotank County.

Two descendants of this family received the nomination for president of the United States General JOSEPH LANE and honorable WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

NEEDHAM BRYAN, called Colonel, born in the Isle of Wight County February 23rd 1690 died January 2nd 1770. He came with his parents to North Carolina about the year 1722 and lived at Snowfield in Bertie County until 1767. He was Justice of the Peace for Bertie County 1732 1739 1745 1746. He was a member of the Assembly from Johnston County from 1750 to 1759. His will dated September 23rd 1767 and probated in 1770 mentions wife SARAH and sons NEEDHAM and WILLIAM. Had no children by his second and third wives SUSANNAH HARRELL and SARAH WOODWARD. His first wife mother of his children whom he married November 16th 1711 was ANNE RAMBEAU and his three wives are buried at snowfield, Bertie County North Carolina.

Hinton Family Research

WILLIAM BRYAN born at Snow Hill Bertie County 1724 died November 28th 1781, brother of NEEDHAM BRYAN Jr., ELIZABETH BRYAN WILLIAMS and RACHEL BRYAN WHITFIELD. WILLIAM BRYAN was appointed a Colonel and the Johnston County militia April 4th 1776, he married in Johnston County North Carolina 1744 ELIZABETH SMITH."

Ludolph, there then follows the names of the 10 children of WILLIAM BRYAN above and wife ELIZABETH SMITH. I will not give the names of these children, not knowing whether the families of NEEDHAM BRYAN have any significance for us.

However what follows interests me further to of the BRYAN sons removed in the 1790s to Burke County Georgia Burke County Georgia is an adjoining County to Jefferson County in which my great-grandfather WILLIAM POWELL first settled in the early 1800s.

I naturally wonder if there were some connection with the NEEDHAM BRYAN family and weather this were the reason for great-grandfather WILLIAM POWELL coming to Georgia, and also the reason for ISAAC POWELL having a son NEEDHAM.

And so unless you are sure there is no need of BRYAN connection please make suggestions as to how we may determine whether there is such a connection.

As you know proof of such connection would probably give our English lineage and in addition eligibility for membership in Magna Carta. I'm sure this would interest others in entering into the search.

If you think well of it unless you are sure there is no connection you might want to you might scratch you might type this from Magna Carta and send to Mr. WILLIAM S. POWELL.

I mentioned, in my letter to him, that I had seen the name WILLIAM C. POWELL in Magna Carta VII but I had not at that time seeing this on the NEEDHAM BRYAN family. WILLIAM C. POWELL is given as having some of the same royal ancestry as the NEEDHAM BRYAN line, if that means anything. The lineage record of WILLIAM C. POWELL is not given in this volume, only a citation as to his Royal ancestry.

I shall add the following excerpts on LEWIS BRIAN also son of WILLIAM and ELIZABETH BRYAN since his records probably accessible.

"LEWIS BRYAN born at Springfield Johnson County 1745 died 1782 member of the commons for Johnston County in 1779, and fought as a private in the war for independence ... married in 1769 NANCY HINTON, sister of SARAH HINTON who m. his first cousin NEEDHAM BRYAN. NANCY HINTON was daughter of GRIZELLE KIMBROUGH and JOHN HINTON, Colonel in the war for independence, who was also descended from kings and queen".

[1688 and I believe earlier]

Hinton Family Research
Finch

And now I would like to ask you, if you do not already know, please try to learn whether there were any NEEDHAM's in our POWELL line, allied family by the name of NEEDHAM.

You will remember that ISAAC POWELL 1732 through 1781 had a son NEEDHAM.

My interest in the name was aroused by something I have seen in the Magna Carta series, volume VII. I enclose a portion of this dealing with the name NEEDHAM.

Unless you know there is no NEEDHAM BRYAN connection it might well it might be well for you to copy this from Magna Carta and send it to WILLIAM S. POWELL, it would give an excuse for you adding a little further prodding to that. I gave.

I am most anxious for us to get busy on our Powell quest. If by summer we have something definite on which to proceed, so as not to require too many hours of research, I can look for further data and Congressional Library D. A. R. library in Washington. If I go east this summer, as now I plan.

Please let me know whether to return the GEORGE [POWELL] and KEDAR POWELL wills. I cannot now remember how I got the idea I was not to return these two. I can send anytime. Just let me know, and make suggestions as to POWELL research.

Jim in bed, it is late - let me leave.

Hurriedly,

Wilma B.

BRIAN, BRYAN(T)

This was originally a well-known personal name along the coast of Brittany, France. It is derivative of some full name compounded With "Bri" meaning "dignity, esteem."

One of the most famous kings of Ireland was called Bhrian Bomhma(Brian the Tribute). He was killed in the battle of Clontarf in 1014.

The O'Brians and O'Briens of Ireland claim descent from him. The name was brought to Northern England, and probably Scotland, by the Norsemen from Ireland. In Old Norse, the name is spelled Brjan.

Radulfus filius (son of) Brien is listed in the 1066 Domesday Book as living in Essex, England. The single name Brien is found in Cheshire in 1088, again in Suffolk in 1114, and as Brient in Warwickshire in 1130.

In Scotland. Linaldus fillius Brian and Bernard filius Brien were living during the reign of William the Lion. 1165 - 1214.

In Virginia, EDWARD BRYAN arrived in 1620 and a dozen or so named BRIAN and BRYAN(t) had arrived by 1660. Land grants were made to JOHN BRIAN or BRYANT, JOHN BRYAN and ROBERT BRYAN in the period 1652-60 for bringing new settlers to the colony.

JOHN BRYAN(t) was in Taunton. Mass. in 1637. STEPHEN was in Plymouth in 1643 and ABRAHAM was in Reading in 1644. ALEXANDER was in Waterton, Conn., after 1639.

One Brian, five Bryans and six Bryants were officers in the American Revolutionary Army.

Among the officers from Johnston County, N. C. were

[LOVERD BRYAN]
Lumpkin, Ga.
April 24 1882

To Rev. Clement A. Evans
Atlanta, Ga.

My dear Nephew:

Your kind letter came to hand a few days ago, and I now sit down to the agreeable task of answering, to the best of my knowledge and memory, the many questions you propound. This is as I have stated an agreeable task, for the knowledge that I have now grown to be an old man, being now in my 78th year, admonishes me that whatsoever I know of interest to my family, I ought to communicate now. And let me say further, that it is with peculiar pleasure that I make this, my last communication, perhaps, on this subject to you, more than anyone else, for my feelings are strangely drawn out towards you when I remember you as the only son of my oldest and favorite sister, and then as my dutiful ward.

The facts below in reference to the genealogy of the BRYAN family may be gathered from many sources, now extant. hence, so far as they go, may be taken to be correct. They are taken from the records kept by the Rev. LEWIS WHITFIELD, who was born in the year 1767, corroborated by the statements of Mrs. Grizelle Hines, who had while in life a singular memory of all the facts relating to the family.

According to WHITFIELD, NEEDHAM BRYAN, of Bertie, was the oldest known member of the family. His wife a Miss CURTIS. He it was that emigrated from Ulster. Family tradition says that he was a Colonel in the Irish Coalition against Cromwell. Having lost all in the conquest of Ireland by Cromwell. he came to America and settled in North Carolina. NEEDHAM BRYAN had by this wife three children: RACHEL BRYAN, WILLIAM BRYAN Jr., & NEEDHAM BRYAN. RACHEL married WILLIAM WHITFIELD of Nansemond County, Virginia. They moved and settled at a place called "Whitehall" on the Neuse River in Wayne County, N. C. WILLIAM BRYAN married BETSY [ELIZABETH] SMITH, daughter of old Colonel JIM SMITH of Johnston Co., N. C. and settled near Smithfield in that county. The sons and daughters of WILLIAM BRYAN, Jr. were LEWIS [BRYAN], ARTHUR [BRYAN], HARDY [BRYAN], BLAKE [BRYAN], and JOHN [BRYAN], ELIZABETH [BRYAN], ESTHER [BRYAN], & SAVANNAH [BRYAN]. WILLIAM BRYAN married BETSY GRAY in Bertie and lived in his grandfather's (NEEDHAM BRYAN's) old place. ARTHUR BRYAN married BETSY MCCOLORS, or MCCULLERS, and had one son, JOHN ARTHUR BRYAN. HARDY BRYAN married WINNIE MCCULLERS, had twelve or fifteen children and lived near Smithfield, N. C. WILLIAM WASHINGTON BRYAN, Gen. HARDY BRYAN and DAVID BRYAN were three of his sons. BLAKE went to Georgia and married E. BETSY BLACKSHEAR, sister of Gen. DAVID BLACKSHEAR, and half sister of Colonel WILLIAM BUSH and JOHN BUSH, Rev. J. TOOKE's grandfather. Tho descendants of BLAKE BRYAN are numerous and are known as the "Blackshear Bryans". I will mention them again.

JOHN BRYAN married PATSY HINTON, daughter of JAMES HINTON and DELILAH HINTON (his wife), who live near Raleigh. JAMES HINTON, father of PATSY, was brother to Major JOHN HINTON and son of old JOHN HINTON of ..., whose wife was a KIMBROUGH. After JOHN's death his widow married Rev. LEWIS WHITFIELD and died a few years before him. PATSY had three BRYAN children, vix-BYTHON, who married JULIA SMITH, sister of EDWIN SMITH, of Johnston County, N. C., and died in 1838 leaving his wife without issue, NANCY, who married JAMES H. SMITH, son of EDWIN above, and nephew of BYTHON's wife.

They were living in 1840 in Tuskegee, Mason County, Alabama and have three daughter, MARTHA, JULIA, and ANN, and a son named BYTHON, and two or three more sons names not known.

ELIZABETH BRYAN married JOSIAH SASSER and had a son, WILLIAM SASSER, JOSIAH died and ELIZABETH married WILLIAM BLACKMAN, and had a daughter, who first married WILLIAM STEPHENS, August 28, 1792, all of Johnston Co., N. C. and had by STEPHENS two sons, JOSIAH STEPHENS & EDMOND STEPHENS; and then married BENJAMIN BRYAN. June 14, 1800. and had BENJAMIN, WILLIAM, REBA, LOVERD, PENELOPE, and SIDNEY. WILLIAM BRYAN's children live in Bibb and Dooley counties, Ga. Their names are WILLIAM B., LUCY and PENELOPE. REBA married WILLARD BOYNTON of Stewart County and had BENJAMIN J. BOYNTON. WILLARD and HINTON, JEFFERSON & CLARENCE, and daughters MARY and FLORETTA. MARY married W. T. PARKS and FLORETTA married J. K. BARNUM. PENNY BRYAN married JOE BOYNTON and had a son SIDNEY, (GEORGE W. BRYAN was a son of SIDNEY BRYAN), she afterwards married ROBERT WIMBERLY. ELIZABETH BRYAN, widow of JOSIAH SASSER, and of WILLIAM BLACKMAN, married, third, PROBIT COLYER and both died. Her son WILLIAM SASSER, had LEWIS SASSER and LEWIS had PATER, JAMES, HARRY, INGRAM, BRYAN, SUSANNAH, and PENELOPE.

ESTHER BRYAN (daughter of WILLIAM BRYAN, Jr. and BETSY SMITH) married JONATHAN SMITH son of Colonel SAMUEL SMITH of Johnston County. N. C.

SUSANNAH (Referred to above as SAVANNAH) married JOHN BUSH, half-brother of General DAVID BLACKSHEAR. JOHN BUSH had a daughter, ELIZABETH who married, ... TOOKE, and had a son. Rev. JOHN T. TOOKE. JAMES (?) J. TOOKE married SARAH WIMBERLY, a daughter of Colonel JAMES WIMBERLY and granddaughter of BLAKE BRYAN.

NEEDHAM BRYAN, son of WILLIAM and RACHEL married NANCY SMITH, sister of BETSY SMITH, WILLIAM's wife, and had sons, NEEDHAM and TUDOR, and daughters WINIFRED and NANCY. NANCY, NEEDHAM's wife, died and he then married a daughter of Colonel JOE MOORE of Sampson County, N. C., and had a daughter CHARLOTTE and a son RIGDON.

NEEDHAM BRYAN, son the second NEEDHAM BRYAN, married SALLIE HINTON. sister of Major JACK HINTON and daughter of Colonel JOHN HINTON of Wake Co., N. C. in 1777.

Dear Marg,

I trust that you have my letter with the General Numbers for which you asked. Am enclosing your last new member. About the naming of The Lady ALICE NEEDHAM BRYAN Chapter, Col. Dames 17, Century. The organizing members of which I was a member did that. As one of the members is a direct descendant of Lady ALICE, and she had rather a romantic story which appealed to us, and I, for one knew about her. Lady ALICE NEEDHAM was the Daughter of Sir ROBERT NEEDHAM, an Irish Peer, and she was born as I remember about 1624. She married WILLIAM BRYAN against her father's wishes and they eloped to Virginia. I think she died there about 1673. The descent is in one of volumes of Wurtz's Magna Charta, but I do not have time to search which one.

The two articles that follow appeared in THE Smithfield Herald in 1915. The first article appeared in the October 5th edition and the second in October 12th. Both articles were by Miss Mattie Pou.

JOHNSTON COUNTY TRADITIONS

No. 1 The Spy

While The Herald is publishing the series of interesting articles on the early history of Johnston County, the writer thinks your readers may like to know some little bits of tradition, handed down through many generations, which throw light upon the manners and customs of that far off day.

One story is, that during the Revolutionary War, Cornwallis' army camped a mile across the river, and cleared that portion of the plantation of Mr. J. W. Stephenson, through which the road now runs. The land was then owned by WILLIAM BRYAN, whose wife ELIZABETH (or BETSY) was a daughter of JONATHAN SMITH, who donated the site of Smithfield, and for whom the town is named. They lived in a house which stood near the old graveyard on the Stephenson farm.

BETSY must have been a suffragette of the most pronounced type, and her militant tactics were eminently successful. One morning a young man came to her door, weary and hungry, asking for food, and for the privilege of resting awhile. It was contrary to custom of that hospitable age to turn away a stranger merely because he was unknown, so BETSY received him courteously, and gave him a good breakfast. She thought she detected something suspicious in his situation and behavior however, and as her husband was absent in the army (in which he held the rank of Colonel) she determined to take the matter into her own hands. So after he had eaten sufficiently, she offered to show her guest to a quiet place where he would rest, and she must have looked particularly innocent and guileless, for he speedily fell into the trap. In her house was a little back room, with only one door, and a high small window, which opened on a shed roof. Ideal place for a undisturbed repose! She showed the stranger to this retreat, and as he entered and closed the door, she bolted it on the outside. After she supposed he was asleep, she climbed on the shed and fastened the window. She then sent a servant in haste to Smithfield for the town officers. They came immediately, arrested the man and searched him, finding papers which showed conclusively that he was a British spy, they sent him at once, under a strong escort, to the nearest camp of the Continental army.

The story ends without telling us whether or not he suffered the death penalty usually meted out to spies.

No. 2 The Stolen Pocket Book

Another incident of the Revolutionary War, which has been remembered, took place at the WILLIAM BRYAN homestead.

As was the custom with planters in those days, Col. BRYAN kept a store in his yard and while Cornwallis's army was encamped near him (just across the road, the story goes) he often sold articles to the British soldiers.

One day, as night was falling, a private entered the store to make some purchases. Col. BRYAN must have been at home on furlough, for he waited on the customer himself. The soldier had traded a good deal, and finally was buying something which

Hinton Family Research Finch

Col. BRYAN was drawing from a barrel. Now "the oldest inhabitant" who told me the story, declares that she never heard what he was drawing from the barrel. She says it might have been sorghum syrup. But in passing it may be remarked that at that period the most upright church members usually owned their own stills. and the still was sometimes bequeathed to the favorite son as a final supreme token of affection.

Be that as it may. Col. BRYAN was intent upon his work. "drawing something from a barrel." and in stooping over disclosed to his customer's eyes a pocket containing a good fat pocket book. They say that war dulls the moral sense, and doubtless it was true in the case of this poor trooper, for he slipped the pocket book!

Col. BRYAN missed it soon afterwards, and knowing his late customer must have been the thief, he reported the matter to Cornwallis. A search revealed the booty still on the person of the criminal, and the General returned it to the owner.

Cornwallis then set about to make such an example of this thief that all the other soldiers should be warned effectually against stealing. So he seems to have borrowed a leaf from the penal code of the Indians.

The tradition is that he ordered the company, to which the man belonged, to be drawn up in double line, and armed with hickory switches. The culprit (stripped to the waist), was then made to run between them, and every member of the company was commanded to strike him. Pretty rough on the victim; but it showed the British abhorrence of dishonesty. And now while England is fighting the battle of humanity against the most formidable army the world has ever known, it is good to remember the high sense of honor, which made the British commander punish so severely, a crime committed by one of his own men against their common enemy.

It may be interesting to know that the store alluded to above is still standing. The house which was WILLIAM and BETSY BRYAN's home, was torn down, and portions of it used by their grandson. BYTHAN BRYAN, in building his own home in 1821. This is now the residence of Mr. W. C. Harper, his father, the late Dr. Harper, having purchased it from Mrs. ANNA MARIA POU, a great-granddaughter of WILLIAM and BETSY BRYAN. The store was moved intact. and joined to the new house as a dining room.

* * * * *

According to my records, ELIZABETH SMITH; b. in 1724 probably in Middlesex Co., Va. was the daughter of JOHN SMITH who amassed considerable property, as witnessed by the land grants issued to him. He owned at one time or another more than five thousand acres, almost all of which lay along the banks of the Neuse River in Johnston County. N. C. She married in N. C. in 1744/5 WILLIAM BRYAN. They lived at Springfield, two miles west of Smithfield, N. C. She died about 1792. JONATHAN SMITH, her nephew, did have a daughter ELIZABETH but I do not know who she married.

BRYAN, BLACKHAN

It has been said that "the family tree of the Bryans bends beneath the weight of its royal ancestry" (Armstrong, Notable Southern Families, II, 33). The name Bryan has its variants in Bryant, Brian, and O'Brien. The O'Brien family is descended from Milesius, King of Spain, through the line of Heber, third son of the monarch. The founders of the family were Brian Boroimhe, or Boru (420-1014). King of Ireland, and Moriartach O'Brien, last king of Ireland of the race of Brian Boru, 1089. Through their descent from Comac Cas, son of Olliul Olium, King of Munster, 177, and his consort Sabia, daughter of Con Kead Caha, or Con of the hundred Battles, King of Ireland, 148, the blood of both Heber and Heremon is united in the family. The titles of the chiefs of the sept were Prince of Thomond and King of Cashel and Munster and their possessions were located in the present-day counties of Cork, Limerick, and Clare, then known as O'Brien's country. This territory had been in the possession of the O'Brien sept from the time of Heber, and most of the kings of Munster were of the O'Brien branch. In 1565 Sir Henry Sidney, the Lord Deputy, changed the name of O'Brien's country to that of Clare, after its Anglo-Norman grantee (Smallwood, Some Colonial and Revolutionary Families of North Carolina, I, 347).

WILLIAM SMITH BRYAN was a landholder in County Clare at the time of the British invasion under Cromwell. For taking the side of Ireland, he was transported to Virginia as a "rebellious subject" in 1650 with his family, goods and chattels, consisting of a shipload. Supposedly, he was the son of Sir FRANCIS BRYAN (Armstrong, Notable Southern Families, II, 33). WILLIAM SMITH BRYAN settled in Gloucester County and had eleven sons, the eldest of whom was FRANCIS, who returned to Ireland in 1667 and endeavored to recover his hereditary titles and estates. He failed and died 1694. MORGAN BRYAN (in Norfolk County, 1693), JOHN BRYAN, LEWIS BRYAN (in Nansemond County, 1689), and the brothers JAMES and WILLIAM BRYAN are thought to have been sons of WILLIAM SMITH BRYAN. JAMES BRYAN was a large landowner in Isle of Wight County. In 1683 he patented 315 acres between "Kingsdale Swamp and the main Blackwater River"; in 1689, 762 acres; and in 1702, 100 acres on the "south side of the main Blackwater River, beginning at the mouth of a branch of Nottoway Swamp." The fact that no note of the arrival of WILLIAM BRYAN can be found in early records makes it seem possible that he was indeed one of the eleven sons of WILLIAM SMITH BRYAN (Ibid., II, 51).

JAMES and WILLIAM BRYAN had certainly moved southward from Isle of Wight County into North Carolina by 1713. On July 22, 1714, WILLIAM BRYAN and JOHN DEW were witnesses to a deed in which JOHN GREEN sold RALPH MASON 200 acres on the north side of Moratuck (Roanoke) River. On July 10, 1715, WILLIAM BRYAN and JOHN NAIRNE were witnesses to a deed in which HENRY WHEELER sold RICHARD WASHINGTON 950 acres of land on the south side of Meherrin River. Then, on February 12, 1718/19, JOHN COUNCIL of Nansemond County, Virginia, deeded JOHN BRITT 400 acres, "part of my land" on the north side of Meherrin River. Witnesses were WILLIAM CARD, WILLIAM BRYAN, Jr., JAMES BRYAN, Sr. (Hathaway; North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register, I, 295, 628, 629).

HODGES COUNCIL made his will 1699 in Isle of Wight County, Va. 1675 he had married LUCY, daughter of JOHN HARDY of Isle of Wight County. He was possibly a son of JOHN COUNCIL, who married 1656 the widow of RICHARD JEFFRIES. HARDY COUNCIL, one of Hodges' sons, made his will 1749. At the time he was about 71 years old; thus his birth date was ca. 1678 (Boddie; Seventeenth Century Isle of Night County. p. 216). One of Hodges COUNCIL's daughters. CHRISTIAN, married EDWARD BRYAN of Craven County. A HARDY COUNCIL was a juryman in Bertie County in 1740.

WILLIAM BRYAN. Marquis of Thomond, was born 1655 in Virginia and eventually ventured, as did his brother FRANCIS, to Ireland.

He married 1689, either in Ireland or in England, Lady ALICE NEEDHAM (Whitfield; Whitfield, Bryan, Smith and Related Families. II, 6). That same year (1689), WILLIAM BRYAN returned with his bride to Virginia, where they resided in 1519 of Night County before settling ca. 1713 on Albemarle Sound in Pasquotank Precinct (later County), North Carolina. WILLIAM BRYAN was as equally well descended as his wife and after taking up land in North Carolina, proceeded to become a leader in the political and civil affairs of his community and colony. he was a Justice of the peace, sheriff, and delegate for Pasquotank County in 1739 to the colonial assembly. He died possibly in 1742 or 1746 (ibid., II. 6) and was buried in Pasquotank County. The children of WILLIAM and ALICE NEEDHAM BRYAN were:

1. NEEDHAM BRYAN (1690-1770).
2. JOHN BRYAN, born January 2, 1692.
3. WILLIAM BRYAN.

NEEDHAM BRYAN was born February 23, 1690, in Isle of Wight County or Nansemond County, Virginia. He died January or June 2, 1770, in Bertie County, North Carolina. He married (1) on November 15, 1711, ANNE RAMBEAU, (2) on August 14, 1732, SUSANNA HARRELL, (3) on June 20, 1753, SARAH WOODWARD.

In 1713 NEEDHAM and ANNE RAMBEAU BRYAN sold one JAMES NOOEBOY 170 acres lying near the Nansemond and Isle of Wight boundary line. in 1721/22 NEEDHAM BRYAN patented 640 acres of land in the then new precinct of Bertie, north Carolina. To this property on Little Roquist, later called Judson Creek, he gave the name Snowfield. There he and his three wives were buried.

NEEDHAM BRYAN was active in many areas of public service. In the Bertie County records his name was often acted. For many years he was chairman of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions and was justice of the peace in 1732, 1739, 1745. He was listed as a juryman in Bertie County in 1740 and was serving as sheriff in, 1745. From 1750 to 1759 he represented Bertie County in the colonial assembly. In 1729 - 1730 he was a church warden for Society Parish.

ANNE RAMBEAU was born 1695. She died March 16, 1730, in Bertie Precinct. NEEDHAM and ANNE RAMBEAU BRYAN were the parents of these children:

1. RACHEL BRYAN (1723-1780), married 1741 WILLIAM WHITFIELD.
2. WILLIAM BRYAN (1724-1781).
3. NEEDHAM BRYAN (1726-1784).

WILLIAM BRYAN was born October 31, 1724, at Snowfield and married 1744 or 1745 ELIZABETH SMITH in Johnston County, whence he migrated ca. 1740. He died November 28, 1781, in Johnston County on his plantation known as Springfield, located two miles west of Smithfield.

WILLIAM BRYAN was justice of the peace in 1756 and in 1762 was serving as sheriff, for which service he was allowed ten pounds. Two years later he, with Jesse Lane, was added to the Commission of the Peace and Dedimus for Johnston County by action of the Council sitting at Wilmington. In 1770 BENJAMIN WILLIAMS, JOHN SMITH, Jr., WILLIAM BRYAN, Esquire, were appointed commissioners to contract workman for construction of a courthouse, prison and stocks for the use of Johnston County (State Records, XXIII, 821). In the so-called War of the Regulation leading to the Battle of Alamance, May 16, 1771, WILLIAM BRYAN took the side of the governor and Crown. On February 20, 1771, he was a colonel in the militia with Governor WILLIAM TRYON (Colonial Records, VIII, 500-501). On Wednesday, May 1, 1771, the Johnston County militia assembled at Colonel BRYAN's place in preparation for the forthcoming showdown with the Regulators (ibid., VIII, 659).

At a meeting of freeholders at Johnston Courthouse on August 12, 1774, WILLIAM BRYAN, NEEDHAM BRYAN, Jr., SAMUEL SMITH, Sr., JOHN SMITH, SAMUEL SMITH, Jr., HENRY RAINS, and WILLIAM WARD were appointed to "a committee to correspond with the Committees of the other Counties in this province, when, and as often as they shall think convenient...." At the same time, WILLIAM BRYAN, NEEDHAM BRYAN, Sr., SAMUEL SMITH, Sr., and BENJAMIN WILLIAMS were selected to attend the first Provincial Congress to meet August 25, 1774, at New Bern (Ibid., IX, 1031-1032). The first meetings of freeholders, while primarily for the election of delegates to the Provincial Congress, assumed something of the nature of the county safety committees as afterward constituted by the Congress. The meeting in Rowan County on August 8, 1774, was the first - the Johnston County meeting was the second - of the local committee meetings, and that in Chowan County on October 15, 1776, the last (Whitaker, The Provincial Council and Committees of Safety in North Carolina, p. 28). The resolves of the Johnston county meeting included expressions of the principles underlying America's position with special stress on the right of colonials to free legal trials and the illegality of trials beyond the seas (Ibid., p. 34). These preliminary bodies, issuing instructions to delegates and formulating opinions as to policy, political and economic, may be classed in function with the regularly constituted safety committees (Ibid., p.9). For their part, the committees of correspondence "became the first nucleus of the power and authority of the respective communities in the management of local affairs in antagonism with the established government" (Ashe, History of North Carolina, I, 420). The first Provincial Council (October 18-22, 1775), and the Second Provincial Council (December 18-24, 1775) as well, met at Johnston Courthouse.

During the American Revolution, WILLIAM BRYAN held positions of trust in the state legislature and in the army. He was a delegate for Johnston County to the Third Provincial Congress (August 20 - September 10, 1775) at Hillsborough (Colonial Records X, 165). He was appointed April 4, 1775, a colonial in the Johnston County militia by the Fourth Provincial Congress at Halifax. On the same day the Provincial Congress declared for independence. Colonel BRYAN was charged with enrolling men and supplying them with arms. Addressing a provincial congress meeting at New Bern, he suggested that a group of cavalry be sent to "take a turn through our country" as the most effective way of silencing several "obstinate persons" who were suspected of being "great Tories in their hearts" and of spreading sedition in the minds of the people. The militiamen were of too little dependence to permit him to silence the Tories by their use. On June 12, 1776, in his capacity as Colonel, WILLIAM BRYAN complained:

I have drafted a number of men from this county, some of whom refuse to march; Congress having made no provision for arms, I have endeavored to borrow or hire guns, though in vain. I then ordered the Captain to send out Sergeants to press guns, but the people hid their guns ... and are hiring substitutes for themselves.

On June 29; 17769 he had occasion to ask the state government for help, for his men, though drafted pursuant to the order of the congress refused to serve. As a reply, he received a resolution:

That the said WILLIAM BRYAN issue his warrant for the recovery of fines pursuant to the Militia Law and Resolution of Congress, and that NEEDHAM BRYAN, late Sheriff of Johnston County be empowered to execute the same.

In 1778 WILLIAM BRYAN was a justice of the peace for Johnston County. On November 23, 1778, he wrote Governor Richard Caswell confessing the weakness of the patriot cause in his area and seeking instructions:

Sir:

I have received yours of the 17th inst., wherein you directed me to send a Drum and Colors; we have not so much as a stand of Colors in this county. I have ordered a Drum down with our last draft which I expect will march this day. You also directed me to send forward those men who did not march in the first draft. It is not in my power to get them - some run clear off, and others lie off in the Rebellion and swear to kill any persons that shall offer to enlist them. Some that was balloted last spring to go to the Northward and some that was drafted in our first detachment to march to the assistance of South Carolina. I understand has embodied themselves and lies on and about the line that divided Johnston and Nash Countys [sic] and so plays in both Countys [sic]. We have had some apprehended and put in jail, but they broke jail and took them out. I should be glad to have some instructions what I must do with such lawless people. I have some reason to think myself in danger of my life every day, as one of the deserters has swore damnation to himself if he does not kill me on sight ... Now, if some method cannot be taken with such fellows, I cannot think myself safe in transacting the public business of this County and should be glad of same instructions from your Excellency.

On February 11, 1779, WILLIAM BRYAN petitioned the House of Commons for leave to resign his command as colonel of the militia and his office of justice of the peace. He was granted by the state the sum of 271 pounds, 12 shillings, and 11 pence in payment for an equal sum of his own spent on the public account (Whitfield; Whitfield, Bryan, Smith and Related Families, II, 10).

WILLIAM and ELIZABETH SMITH BRYAN were the parents of these children, all born at Springfield:

1. LEWIS BRYAN (November 24, 1745-1782).
2. WILLIAM BRYAN (July 8, 1747 - September 14, 1800).
3. ARTHUR BRYAN (1749-1792).
4. ELIZABETH BRYAN (1751-1845).
5. HARDY BRYAN (1753-ca. 1820).
6. BLAKE BRYAN (June, 1757 ca. March, 1820).
7. ESTHER BRYAN (1760-1800;).
8. SUZANNE BRYAN (November 28, 1763-ca. 1820).
9. JOHN BRYAN (January 14, 1765-1815/1820).
10. MARY (Polly) BRYAN (born March 25, 1767).

ELIZABETH BRYAN, daughter of WILLIAM and ELIZABETH SMITH BRYAN, was born May 2, 1751. She married (1) on December 10, 1770, in Johnston County Colonel JOSIAH SASSER of Wayne County, (2) in 1784 Colonel WILLIAM BLACKMAN of Johnston County, (3) PROBERT COLLIER. In 1843, when 91 years of age, she moved with her sons to Oglethorpe, Georgia, where she died 1845. She was buried in Twiggs County, Georgia.

In January, 1782, the Wayne County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions met at the home of Mrs. ELIZABETH SASSER. At that time the will of JOSIAH SASSER was probated, and Mrs. SASSER qualified as executrix. Her children were:

1. MARY SASSER (born ca. 1772).
2. LEWIS SASSER (born 1774).
3. BLAKE BRYAN SASSER (born 1776).
4. WILLIAM SASSER (born 1778).
5. ELIZABETH BRYAN BLACKMAN (ca. 1787-1811).

WILLIAM BLACKMAN, the second husband of ELIZABETH BRYAN, was born ca. 1740. His grandfather BENNETT BLACKMAN was in Johnston County by 1754, and his father Stephen BLACKMAN was there as early as 1747. On June 17, 1765, STEPHEN BLACKMAN of Dobbs County, executor of the will of BENNETT BLACKMAN, deceased, of Johnston County sold HENRY JERNIGAN part of a patent of BENNETT BLACKMAN dated March 30, 1754 (Johnston County Transcript 1, 131-132). On April 3, 1755, STEPHEN BLACKMAN deeded the same HENRY JERNIGAN a parcel of land on Mill Creek and referred to BENNETT BLACKMAN's patent granted April 23, 1763 (D. B. E-1, 95-97). STEPHEN BLACKMAN of Dobbs County. on September 28, 1770, conveyed to WILLIAM BLACKMAN of Johnston County 276 acres of land on the south side of Neuse River for 9 pounds proclamation money (Transcript 1, 288).

STEPHEN BLACKMAN appeared on the 1784 tax list for Sampson County with 238 acres of land and 2 slaves; WILLIAM BLACKMAN in 1734 in Johnston County listed 1184 acres, 1 free poll, and 9 black polls. For the 1790 Census, Johnston County, WILLIAM BLACKMAN enumerated 2-2-5-0-20, thereby indicating that he was a planter of means. He served in the American Revolution and was afterward a colonel in the Johnston County militia. On January 5, 1793, STEPHEN BLACKMAN of South Carolina, "son and heir of BENNETT BLACKMAN" sold WILLIAM BLACKMAN for 5 shillings 150 acres on Mill Creek, south side of Neuse River (D. B. S-1, 332-334).

Soon after the last deed was made, WILLIAM BLACKMAN died in Johnston County. "An inventory of the personal property of WILLIAM BLACKMAN dec'd" included 22 slaves. Widow ELIZABETH BRYAN BLACKMAN was appointed administratrix of the estate (Johnston County, inventories and Settlements of Estates and wills; 1761-1795, pp. 104-106. 145). "An Account of sale of the estate of WILLIAM BLACKMAN dec'd" was rendered March 19 and 20, 1793 (Ibid., pp. 163-169).

ELIZABETH BRYAN BLACKMAN, daughter of Colonel WILLIAM and ELIZABETH BRYAN BLACKMAN, was born ca. 1787 in Johnston county and there died August 2, 1811. She married 1805 ISAAC WILLIAMS of Johnston County (Whitfield; Whitfield, Bryan, Smith and Related Families, II, 22): ISAAC WILLIAMS married (2) in December 1816, Susanna Lee in Johnston County.

The answer of FARQUARD CAMPBELL and ELIZABETH his wife, surviving executors of the last will and testament of ALEXANDER SMITH deceased, to the bill of complaint of SAMUEL SMITH, Administrator of the goods and chattles & Ca. which were of the estate Of JOHN SMITH Senr., deceased. These defendants now and at all times here after saving and preserving to themselves all legal benefits & advantage that may be had and taken to the many errors, uncertainties, and insufficiencies of the complaints said bill of complaint for answer to the same bill or to so much thereof as they are advised it is material and necessary for them to answer to; they admit that JOHN SMITH Senr. in the bill named did depart this life on or about the time stated in Hill intestate; & that complainant obtained letters of administrations on his estate as in bill set forth, they also admit that the said JOHN SMITH Senr. deceased at the time of his death left a daughter named JANE [SMITH] who had been married to THOMAS PHELPS & another daughter named PHERUBA [SMITH], the wife of JOHN HINTON, also a son named SAMUEL SMITH, the complainant, living; and that besides the said two daughters & son who survived him, he had a daughter ANNE [SMITH] who had married NEEDHAM BRYAN; ELIZABETH [SMITH], who had married WILLIAM BRYAN; a son JOHN [SMITH] and one named ALEXANDER [SMITH] who died before him, all of who have left issue. These defendants also say the said testator did previous to his death make and publish in due form of law his Last will and testament in writing and therein constituted DAVID SMITH, BRYAN WHITFIELD & ELIZABETH his wife then executors. That said ELIZABETH SMITH (now ELIZABETH CAMPBELL) and DAVID SMITH proved the said will in due form of law in the county court of Cumberland County where the said Testator resided at the time of his death and took upon themselves the execution of the said will by qualifying themselves in due form of Law. The said BRYAN WHITFIELD never qualified as Executor nor hath acted as such but hath declined to do so. These defendants further say that they intermarried with each other the 25th of March in the year 1782, Whereby the said FARQUARD CAMPBELL became as he is advised Executor in right of his said wife. As to the gifts made by the late JOHN SMITH Senr. for the advancement of his family, the said FARQUARD CAMPBELL knows nothing but the said ELIZABETH his wife saith that her former husband, ALEXANDER SMITH, had sundry slaves, horses, cattle, beds and furniture when she married him and she heard from him and doth believe that he had a negro man about forty years of age, a woman about 13 years of age & a boy from the said JOHN SMITH Sr., his Father, the boy however appeared to have been purchased as there is among the papers of the said late ALEXANDER a bill of sale stating the consideration paid for him to be one hundred pounds. She further states that the woman was given in the year 1758 and the man about 1756. She admits of the cattle, horses and household furniture set forth in the schedule in the bill of complaint. As to the Negroes and other property charged in the bill to have been given to the children of the said late ALEXANDER by the said late JOHN his father, these defendants are advised that it does in no manner concern them, being in no part relative to the estate of their testator, but they humbly submit to the court whether the children of the said ALEXANDER should not be made parties and answer for themselves at which these defendants are ready to aver, etc. without that, these defendants pray to be dismissed herewith the costs & c.

The answer of JOHN HINTON and PHERABY HINTON his wife to the bill of Complaint of SAMUEL SMITH Administrator of the JOHN SMITH Sr., deceased, against the heirs of the said JOHN SMITH. These defendants reserving to themselves all advantages that have arisen or that may hereafter arise to the errors and uncertainties contained in the Plaintiffs bill of complaint. For answer hereto or as much thereof as they are advised is material to make answer unto, answereth and saith that these defendants were intermarried about June 1793. That they received of their deceased father JOHN SMITH Senr. a negro girl by the name of HAGER about 15 years of age, that about the year 1767 they also received a negro boy by the name of JOD about 7 years [old], One small horse (of the inferior kind) 2 cows and yearlings, one feather bed and furniture, two small iron pots, one gallon pewter basin & middle pewter dish. 8 silver tea spoons & silver tea tongs & One small pine Chest with articles contained the whole schedule delivered to these defendants in the life time of the deceased [who] gave to their son JOHN a negro girl by the name of TAMER, a girl about 4 or 5 years, which negro these defendants never considered as their own property, but as a gift of the grandfather to his grandson, and how far this honorable court will consider the gift of the grandfather to their son JOHN an advancement to them they carefully submit. The Negroes received by those defendants were as likely to their age as was common, but what their real value at the time they do not recollect. The small horse they value at Ten dollars, the cows and yearlings of common value, the bed and furniture tolerable good, the other articles the price is well known. These defendants further say and wish that the prayer of the plaintiffs bill may be granted not doubting but this honorable court will do equal justice to them and the several parties concerned and that these defendants will receive by the decree of your Honors all such part as in equity they are entitled to and hereby humbly submit.

Major NATHAN WILLIAMS (1806-1867) who married MARTHA AVENETT on 24 November 1829 was among the leading citizens of the county who on 22 December 1860 signed the so-called Johnston Resolves, registered their initial opposition to secession. He lived to see the Civil War brought dangerously close to his plantation. Although the house was not destroyed, the cotton gin and other out-buildings were banned. The architect who built the house around 1830 moved to Georgia. In 1937, his son was living and able to give details on the construction of the house and similar ones built in N. C.

When I was a young girl my mother, MARY ESTHER SANDERS, took me to see the home and I took the above picture then. We went to the battlefield behind the house and saw trenches and battle-scarred trees. The trenches had been dug for protection by the soldiers. Mother's sister who was 16 years older than mother was with us. She told me and mother about a secret hiding place in the attic near the chimney. Aunt LIZZIE, (or "Sis" as we called her) showed me where the spring house had been to keep the butter and milk cool in the summer.

Bentonville Battleground is located 3 miles off U. S. 701 between Smithfield and Newton Grove. In March of 1965, Bentonville Battleground was officially dedicated as a state historical site, commemorating the battle fought between Sherman's troops and our boys in gray. There is a museum with programs and guided tours available to the public. In the immediate vicinity is the Old Harper House which was used as a hospital for the Union and Confederate soldiers in 1865. On a secondary road behind the site is our great-grandmother's home. MARY ELIZABETH WILLIAMS (1833-1884) married (1) SIDNEY A. SMITH, my great-grandfather and (2) ROBERT B. SMITH. MARY REBECCA SMITH married WILLIS A. SANDERS, parents of my mother, ESTHER S. HINTON.

SMITH

First Family of Smithfield
By Elizabeth Ross

This, the year of 1977, marks the 200 birthday of Smithfield, N. C., as an incorporate town. A study of the first family of this town is appropriate at this time. JOHN SMITH, JR. deeded 118 ac. of land on the North side of the Neuse River, on Which the town of Smithfield was established by an act of the Legislature in April 1777. In 1770/71, the Court House of Johnston County was changed from the Hinton Quarter Site, to "Captain JOHN SMITH'S, on the North side of the Neuse River".¹ This Site was on the land which was an early purchase by JOHN SMITH, SR., after coming to settle in this fertile valley of the Neuse River of then Craven County, Johnston being formed in 1746 from Craven.

The first records of the Smithfield Smiths appear about 1740/18. and by the time of the formation of Johnston County, they were having many land transactions on the deed books. Early records of these deeds were destroyed in the Lenoir County Court House fires, but, an index to these early deeds was found. but nothing more more than an index.³ Brothers JOHN [SMITH] and SAMUEL SMITH settled here with large families and continue to populate the county. JOHN SMITH Sr., sold most of his land holdings to son John Jr. and by 1785, both father and son had moved to Hawkins Co., Tennessee. Court Records are in Tennessee concerning the settlement of the Estates of both JOHN SMITH Sr., & JOHN SMITH Jr. JOHN Jr., dying before his father in Hawkins County ca. 1789 and JOHN SMITH Sr. died in the County of Knox, cut from Hawkins 1792, before June ct. of 1793, without making a will. His sole surviving son SAMUEL, residing in Johnston County, N. C. was made Administrator of his father's estate. A list of the children of JOHN Sr., sons & daughters, and some of the grandchildren are given in depositions sent to the Tennessee Court for settlement of the Estate, Knox County Superior Court Record B. 1779-1804, pg. 282-291.

SAMUEL SMITH, Sr., settled just down the Neuse River from brother JOHN and both seemed to name their children with the same names to make the job of identification even harder. SAMUEL Sr. remained in Johnston County and was very active in the affairs of county and state as brother JOHN had been before, moving to Tennessee. Much research has been done on these two brothers, but much confusion still exists as to whose son belonged to who. Further research will finally clear the picture for those who search long and hard enough. Early records of the Smiths seem to point to them coming from the area of the Virginia, N. C. line in Tidewater Virginia and the Isle of Wight areas.

A Cemetery is still in existence in central Johnston County, that was probably located on the plantation of SAMUEL SMITH Jr. Two stones are still legible, being those of his first wife SALLEY MCCOLLERS, and daughter ZILPHIA [MCCOLLERS]. At the present time, efforts are being made to clear and mark the cemetery.

The Smith and the Bryans

The conjunction of the Smith and Bryan names illustrates the ties of friendship and relationship which for several generations united these two families and which resulted in a rather exceptional control of local affairs.

The founder of the Bryan family was WILLIAM BRYAN (b. 1655 - d. 1742). Marquis of Thomond, Ireland, who emigrated to Virginia and thence to North Carolina. His wife was Lady ALICE, daughter of Lord NEEDHAM, Viscount of Kelmorey, whose name was long perpetuated among her descendants. Two grandsons of this household married daughters of Colonel JOHN SMITH. WILLIAM BRYAN (b. 1724) married ELIZABETH SMITH; NEEDHAM BRYAN (b. 1726) married NANCY SMITH.

As the Revolution neared, the influence of the Smith and Bryan families were exerted upon the patriot side, and as the recognized leaders of the region they virtually controlled both its political and military activities. From the many recorded meetings and committees where their names appear, we select, as typical, the following document, signed at a time when Committees of Correspondence were being formed throughout the colonies to unite the opposition to British oppression.

SAMUEL SMITH, Jr. Esquire in the chair.

II. RESOLVED, That His Majesty's Subjects in America are intituled to the same rights and liberties, that his subjects within the Kingdom of Great Britain.

In an early expedition against Tory insurgents (1775), which covered twenty-five days, we find the Johnston troops commanded by Colonel WILLIAM BRYAN, with JOHN SMITH as 1st Major and SAMUEL SMITH. 2nd Major. In that year also the delegates to the Provincial Congress at Hillsboro were SAMUEL SMITH, JOHN SMITH and WILLIAM BRYAN. At the Halifax Congress of the next year SAMUEL SMITH, Jr. was a delegate, and NEEDHAM BRYAN, and JOHN SMITH were appointed to receive, procure and purchase fire-arms for the use of the troops. They were to handle "all such arms as have been taken from the Tories" and where necessary were to put them into repair. SAMUEL SMITH was selected to confer with the Colony of Virginia, and the officers appointed for the Johnston County troops were WILLIAM BRYAN. Colonel; JOHN SMITH, Lieutenant-Colonel; SAMUEL SMITH. Major; JOHN STEVENS, 2nd Major.

Colonel JOHN SMITH died. an old man, in 1777. The Captain JOHN SMITH, whose name then begins to appear in public documents was his son, who in 1778 married EDITH AVERA.

The town of Smithfield, N. C. Was founded in 1777 "on the lands of JOHN SMITH on the North side of Neuse River, where the Court House and other public buildings now stand. There were to be half-acre 'lots', with convenient streets, lanes and alleys, and every Grantee was within three years to "erect, build and finish one well framed or Brick House, Sixteen Feet square at least. and ten Feet pitch in the clear or proportionable to such Dimensions ---".

BATTLE OF BENTONVILLE

The Smithfield Herald
September 13, 1927

An eyewitness account of the battle as told by Dora Hood Kirkman who lived in Bentonville and was 10 years old at the time of the Battle. Mrs. Kirkman died in 1943.

"It was in the first days of spring that the menacing clouds of war began to darken the horizon of the village and the lives of the people were filled with apprehension and a foreboding of the trying times to come.

Long before the appearance of the soldiers, the villagers were seeking places in which to conceal their treasures. Silver, chinaware, money were buried. Unique places to hide them were found for food and other household supplies. My father, wishing to save a large supply of meat, dropped it between the ceiling and weatherboarding of his house.

The battle raged. Homes and outhouses of all kinds were filled with the wounded. dead and dying. Operations were performed without anesthetics. It seems I can almost hear the groans of the wounded even yet. They were in my father's wash shelter, and they went through the terrible experience of having their wounded limbs removed without anything to help them bear the pain. The village people every day ministered to the Blue and Gray alike.

On the third day of battle my brother, who was suffering from the effects of the measles, was taken seriously ill and it became necessary that someone go for aid. My father together with the other men of Bentonville had been taken by the Yankees to be tried for the murder of one of their soldiers, so the dangerous mission was assigned to me, a small child of 10.

I left the house and went through the crowd of Union soldiers, under horses, dodging horses, dodging soldiers, pushing, running, crawling, anyway to reach at last the haven of the neighbor's house. Having found it impossible for the neighbor to leave her home as the Yankees were in it then, ripping open her feather beds and destroying other things, I started back alone.

I had not gone but a few steps when to my horror, one of the Yankee soldiers stopped me to inquire where I was going. Upon being told of my mission and destination, he insisted that the trip was too dangerous and that I ride on his horse with him. On learning how ill my brother was, this soldier went out and brought in a Yankee doctor. My brother died late that evening .

Many houses were being burned and people lived continually in the fear of seeing their homes go up in flames. My father's shop and storehouse were burned. Our home and a few more were the only ones left standing.

During the hottest of the battle, flying shot and shell made it dangerous to stay in the house. The neighbors had all come in and we were huddling up in one room. My father had a hole dug under the house and we had to lie flat on our faces and slide under. We stayed under the house in this hole for a day and a night, coming out when we heard they were going to burn the house over us.

During the latter part of the battle, General Johnston was wounded and brought in our home to await the ambulance. I remember that my mother was called on for all the pillows and quilts she had, being promised they would be returned. but of course she never saw them again.

The horror of this war was indelibly written on my memory. Shots and shell, wounded, dead and dying, houses burning, blood flowing, groaning of the wounded, all live with me."

COURTHOUSE ONCE BUILT IN MIDDLE OF SECOND AND MARKET STREETS?

By C. STANTON COATS

In its Harvest Edition of August 1961 the Herald republished an earlier historical article captioned "Johnston County Has Had Four Courthouse Locations." Actually, Johnston has had five courthouse locations in addition to private homes in which court was held while courthouses were being built. The Johnston County Courthouse once stood in the intersection of Smithfield's Second and Market streets.

It would seem that most Johnstonians would know the first courthouse was located at Walnut Creek, some 51 or seven miles southeast of Goldsboro. When Dobbs County was formed from lower Johnston by an act of the Provincial Assembly of 1758, that courthouse fell to the new county of Dobbs.

The court was then moved to Hinton's Quarter, just east of Clayton, where the first court was held the last Tuesday in April 1759. When Wake County was formed by an act of 1770, effective in March 1771, the court was moved to the east side of Neuse River at Smithfield, where the first session was held May 28, 1771 in the house of Major JOHN SMITH Jr. In August of that year he sold the county an acre or so of land about where Riverside Warehouse now stands and a new courthouse was built on it.

At the March 1786 term. the court met with SAMUEL SMITH, NEEDHAM BRYAN, and WILLIAM AVERA, as Justices. The first business was: "Ordered that the courthouse of this county be removed from the place it now stands to the center section of Second and Market streets in Smithfield, there to be well fixed on pillars of brick eight feet high, ranging with Second Street, that all necessary repairs be made in a workmanlike manner. That a Gaol (Gaol) be built on lots No. 53 & 54." In old records gaol, a temporary prison, is spelled both ways.

The gaol was to be 14 by 20 feet and was to be under-laid with stone two feet below the surface of the earth upon which a floor of square pieces nine inches thick was to be laid. The ground floor was to be for criminals, with a debtors' room over it. There were no specifications for a third floor, except that over the third floor a roof was to be made of a convenient size for a guard room.

The door in the criminal room was to be fixed at the corner of the front side; the door of the debtors' room at the south end under the door of the guard room. Two convenient windows were to be in the debtors' room with one in the criminals' room right under the door of the debtors' room, each window to be secured with iron bars. The order also provided that a pillory pillory and stocks be built on the property.

NEEDHAM BRYAN and HARDY BRYAN and WILLIAM WARD were appointed commissioners to contract with and employ workmen to undertake and complete the work. The commissioners were also empowered to sell the present gaol for the best price they could get, the money to go "towards the discharge of part of the expense that shall accrue in the prosecution of the said business." (It might interesting to know what the going rate for a second-hand "jail" was back in those days).

No mention was made of any agreement or relationship the county may have had with the town in connection with relocating the courthouse in the intersection of Second and Market streets, nor of building the gaol, pillory, and stocks on lots 53 and 54. They are the lots the county acquired in 1797, and on which the present courthouse stands. Since the town records were destroyed in the wee small hours of November 12, 1926, when the old City Hall - Opera House went up in flames, we perhaps will never know what the county and town officials may have had in mind nearly 200 years ago.

At the November 1787 term of the court it was "Ordered that WILLIAM BRIDGERS be allowed the sum of Eighteen Pounds for moving the courthouse and furnishing timber for the jail." So the Courthouse must have been moved to the center section of Second and Market Streets in Smithfield. Those are the only streets in the original plan of the town that were 80 feet wide.

I have seen no specifications as to the size of the Courthouse that Smithfield was built around. The one at Hinton's Quarter was 20 by 30 feet. With the traffic as it must have been in the late 1780s and 1790s, there must. not have been any traffic jams.

Also at the November 1787 term of the court, HARDY BRYAN and WILLIAM WARD, two of the commissioners appointed to employ workmen to build a jail and courthouse, came into court and reported that they had employed Capt. JOHN ROCHAEL to build the jail, "who has finished the same agreeable to his undertaking with them for the sum of One hundred and Seventy five pounds; the said Jail is therefore accepted for the use of the County and the said commissioners directed to procure whatever else may be necessary towards rendering the jail more complete at the expense of the County."

ARTHUR BRYAN, then the sheriff of the county, also came into court and protested against "the sufficiency of the jail of this County." The 1787 entries are the first so far found where the word 'jail' is spelled out.

HINTON

Hinton, as a surname, is derived from the local usage "of Hinton." There are parishes of the name in the dioceses of Salisbury, Winchester, Oxford, Peterborough, Bath, and Wells. JOHN HINTON appears on the Hundred Rolls of the County Cambridge in 1273, and ROBERT de HINTON on those of County Dorset. (C. W. Bardsicy; "Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames.")

The Word Hinton in Anglo_Saxon, means "Old town" and is given to at least a dozen different Parishes in England. The family of Hynton, however, took its name originally from Hynton-Sutton or Hynton-Brackley, as it is variously called in the northeastern part of Northamptonshire and Hynton-Woodford in the northwestern part.

The name of Hinton in England, stands as high for bravery in battle. fidelity to trusts, and later eminence in literature as any family of commoners England has produced and in this country steadily maintained their respectability and have proved themselves, in all their branches, male and female useful and honorable citizens.
