The prior message was read and privately responded to by some of the perusers.

Here is a more, but not totally, complete version, with a newly stated caveat to all (following Mrs. Edythe Rucker Whitley's work), to wit:

History, Descendants of Jonathan Kittrell I

The Kittrell family in America descends from a very ancient and notable family, who originally spelled the name Caterall. We have not traced the family back of Edward

I. There is no doubt, much history of the early branches and derivations of the family, but references are rare.

The American Kittrell family descends from the old Lancashire family of Catheralls. (Also spelled Catteralls and Cateral.)

The early Cateral were established in Lancashire at a very early date; just how long it is not known-but it was previous to the reign of Edward I. They bore for arms Azure; three Nascles'or.

One cadet branch became established about the time of Edward III of Yorkshire, at Rothmel, and from this again a collateral branch. The cadet branch from which the American Kittrells are descended, stems from John Caterall or Cateral, he apparently spelled his name both ways.

In the reign of Edward I, the became established on the Welsh border as one of the retainers of the Lords of Chesters in Heraldic service. [extra sentence removed.] The Welsh connection explains the frequent spelling of the name with "Mac" prefix; although, there is some Welsh blood in the later Catherals, their name is purely English.

To this John Catherall a difference of arms in the form of a passant lion was awarded for gallantry against the Welsh. The arms of the Catherals.

John Catheral (or Cateral) had a son: William Catheral, alias de Horton, who married an heiress and was a personal friend of Edward II.

He had issue:

1. William Catheral.
2. a daughter
3. a son.

William Catheral had issue:

1. David Catheral (time of Edward III) who had issue:
  - (a) John Catheral (time of Henry IV) who had issue:
    - (aa) Ralph Catheral (time of Henry VI).
    - (bb) Another son.

History, Descendants of Jonathan Kittrell I

Ralph Catheral had issue:

1. Hugh Catheral (time of Edward IV) who had issue:
  - (a) John Catheral (time of Henry VIII)
  - (b) a son.
  - (c) a son.
  - (d) a daughter.
  - (e) a daughter.

John Catheral, was also called Jenkyn Catheral or Kittrell, and John Catheral and is illustrated [sic] of the confusion of the spelling of names in that period. He had issue:

1. John Catherall (the time of Henry VIII) was called Jenkyn had issue:
  1. John Catherall of whom this sketch is traced.
  2. a son.
  3. a daughter.

John Catheral, the third of that name, died in 1658. This is the first definite date in regard to the family. He upheld the Cavalier causes in the wars of Charles I, and the parliament, and as a result he was mulated of a large portion of property. However, he continued to live at Horton after the cessation of hostilities. He had issue:

1. John Catheral of whom we are interested.
  2. a son.
  3. a daughter.
  4. a daughter.

John Catheral living in 1663, as is proved from the "Visitations", but little more is known of him. He had issue:

1. Dutton Catheral of whom we are interested and of whom it seems begins the American family history.

History, Descendants of Jonathan Kittrell I

Dutton Catheral was born in 1662. As the eldest he inherited the family estate and a name and also the family tradition of loyalty to the Stuart cause. When the Revolution of 1688 broke out, which unseated James II and placed William of Orange on the throne. Dutton was consequently on the wrong side; unable and unwilling to follow James on his hurried flight from the kingdom, he sold off the family estate and joined James in Ireland. He lived there for some time and finally joined the famous "Flight of the Wild Geese" to France. France, however, was not to his taste and on the conclusion of peace, he left the country and came to Maryland, where he is found in the Parish Register of the Eastern Shore of Maryland as Dutton Kittrell.

Dutton Kittrell appears to drop almost out of sight, so far as any record is concerned, except that he settled in Maryland. It is likely that he died in Maryland, we do not know. We do not know the name of Dutton Kittrell's wife, as nothing has been found to give this information.

From the records and references gathered he had at least one son, although not completely proven by record. We find Jonathan Kittrell first in the records of NC as early as 1700, or there about. Jonathan Kittrell was from Maryland, and this leads the idea that he was descended from Dutton Kittrell. Other records from Maryland and NC tend to give this opinion or conception that Jonathan Kittrell was the son of Dutton Kittrell of Maryland about 1695.

NOTE: Catheral (Horton Co. Chester, there settled temp. Edward I in consequence of the marriage of a Catherall of Catherall, County Lancaster, with an heiress of Horton, Randeall Catherall, the Heraldic Collector, was a younger son of the Horton family). (Burk's Landed Gentry, Burk's Peerages, Burk's Encyclopedia & Burk's History of the Commoners, found in the Congressional Library of English Peerages and Heraldic.)

History, Descendants of Jonathan Kittrell I

Jonathan Kittrell of NC, first generation of definite proof. He appears in the record of Chowan and Bertie Counties. Little is known of him until 1718. Chowan Co., NC, 1723 Johas or Jonathan Kittrell, living in that precinct. (Vol. 25, page 186 NC, State and Colonial Records. Jonathan Kittrell received a grant of land from the Royal Government of NC. For what service I am unable to state.

In 1727 Jonathan Kittrell, a juror in the General Ct of NC. This was Tuesday, the 31st day of October, 1727 (Vol 2 page 712, NC State and Colonial Records). Bertie Co., NC, Jonathan Kittrell is found in many transactions of 1718 to 1739. His will is recorded in Chowan Co., NC in 1748. Just who his wife was we do not know. It is most likely that his marriage took place in Bertie and Chowan County.

Issue:

1. Jonathan Kittrell II, whom we will have much later in this history,
2. John Kittrell of Bertie Co., NC, carried out in this history.
3. George Kittrell, who settle in Granville Co., NC about 1760 or 1761 as in 1761 he was granted land in Granville Co., N. C.
4. Isaac Kittrell.
5. Samuel Kittrell, who settled in Granville Co., NC, about 1761 or 1762.

There were perhaps other children but no record of them.

Jonathan Kittrell of the second generation and the second by the name of Jonathan. Born about 1720 (exact date undetermined.) From Revolutionary and Colonial services he must have been at least thirty years of age at the beginning of the Revolution.

There is so much history about Jonathan's career; it is difficult to know where to begin. He was no doubt, a resident of Bertie or Chowan County until 1760. In this year he buys land in Granville Co., NC, at a place now called Kittrell, NC, in Vance Co., (Vance County was formed from Granville.) In 1761 he was granted land in Granville County by Lord Granville. Nothing appears regarding him in Bertie or Chowan County after this date.

Vol. 22, page 394, NC State and Colonial Records, "Newbern District, NC, Beaufort Co., 1763. We the undersigned subscribers do hereby acknowledge to have received of Robert Harris, Colonel of Granville Co. Regiment of Militia the sum opposite our respective names for our services in protection of the public peace at Hillsborough in Sept. last ___ March 24, 1763. "Among the names on the list appears Johnathan Kitral, Captain Dec. 24, 1763 and John Kittrall, Ensign." This proves that Jonathan Kittrell was in the service of his country prior to the Revolution.

History, Descendants of Jonathan Kittrell I

Vol. 22, Pages 489-490 NC State and Colonial Records, "Capt. Kitral, paid soldiers for services thru Robert Harris Colo" and again Vol. 22, page 165, same reference, Company commanded by Capt. Jonathan Kittrell 1771 - gives Samuel Kittrell, as Lieutenant, and Jonathan Kittrell Jr. as clerk." This proves in 1771 Jonathan II had a son Jonathan who was at least eighteen years old as he was serving his country.

From Ms. S. records in Office of Secretary of State of NC, Granville Co., taken from NC State and Colonial Records, Vol. 8, page 196, we have "Know all men by these presents that we Isaac Edwards, John Williams and William Bullock, all of Granville County are held and firmly bound unto Robert Harris, Johnathan Kittrell and Thornton Yancey - Justices of the County of Granville in the sum of one thousand pounds proclamation Money. To the which payment well and truly to be made. We bind ourselves, our heirs, Executors and administrators jointly and severally firmly by these presents. Sealed without seals and dated this 17th day of April, A. D., 1770, etc."

Jonathan Kittrell II, made his will, which is dated 1811, March 18, in Granville Co., NC. Probated 1812. He mentions the following in his will: "My son, Issac, son-in-law, John Harris, daughter of Nancy Hunt, grandchildren Tabby, Talley, James, Sally, Nancy, Polly, daughter Sarah Higgs, and Mary Morse. Grandchildren Jonathan, Sally, Patsy, Eaton, Sol. Alston Kitrell, Eaton Hunter Kittrell. Ann Alston, wife of my son, Isham. Pathenia Elizabeth Isham Williamson Kittrell. Bryant, Wilborn, Fredrick, Mary Blakemore, children of son Jonathan.

This will does not call for Joshua, neither does it call for all of his brothers, but it does call for Isham and the heirs of Solomon Kittrell, so to prove Joshua a son of Jonathan we prove Joshua a brother of Isaac and Isham.
